DETAILED ACTION

Claims 10-25 and 34-37 have been cancelled by Applicant.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-9, drawn to any iceberg lettuce plant comprising a first outer leaf having a length to width ratio between about 1.2 to about 2.7, parts thereof, and methods of making said plant, classified in class 800, subclass 260.
 - II. Claims 26-33, drawn to a Lactuca sativa L. seed consisting of PSR 6425, PSR 6595, and PSR 6032, plant or parts thereof of said seed and method of making said seed, classified in class 800, subclass 305.
2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: lettuce varieties PSR 6425, PSR 6595, and PSR 6032.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 26-33 are generic to the above species in Group II.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). These inventions are different because Group I is drawn to any iceberg lettuce plant comprising a first outer leaf having a length to width ratio between about 1.2 to about 2.7, parts thereof, and methods of making said plant and Group II is drawn to a Lactuca sativa L. seed consisting of PSR 6425, PSR 6595, and PSR 6032, plant or parts thereof of said seed and method of making said seed. These two inventions differ because each invention consist of a unique genetic, morphological, and physiological composition that is different from any other plant. Furthermore, searching the invention of Group I together with the invention of Group II would impose a serious search burden. In the instant case, prior art searches of any iceberg lettuce plant comprising a first outer leaf having a length to width ratio between about 1.2 to about 2.7, parts thereof, and methods of making said plant are not coextensive with prior art searches of a Lactuca sativa L. seed consisting of PSR 6425, PSR 6595, and PSR 6032, plant or parts thereof of said seed and method of making said seed. Search of each of these inventions would require different key word searches of each group using divergent patent and non-patent literature databases. The different searches would then require subsequent in-depth analysis of the unrelated prior art literature, placing a serious burden on the Office in terms of both search and examination. As such, it would be burdensome to perform examination of inventions I and II together.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under CFR 1.17(i).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
